A Message from the President of University of Maryland Global Campus

Dear UMGC Graduates,

Congratulations! Commencement represents an important academic milestone, and you deserve to celebrate.

Today, we are honored to celebrate with you. I know I speak on behalf of everyone at University of Maryland Global Campus (UMGC) when I say that we are so proud of your every achievement and equally proud to partner with you on your learning journey.

When you succeed in your studies and in life, we succeed in our mission, and we are honored to welcome you as UMGC alumni.

Many of you are also active-duty servicemembers, veterans of the U.S. military, or medical personnel and first responders. We salute you and the many others who live lives of service, and we thank you for choosing UMGC to continue your education.

As UMGC graduates, you are each better equipped to lead—in your family, your community, your place of work.

Be brave, and know that we share your vision of a world that is better and brighter, safer and more secure, more peaceful, and more just.

Embrace that vision and let it lead you. Together, we can help build that world for ourselves, our loved ones, and for all.

Again, congratulations to you and to all who share in this special achievement, whether in person or in spirit.

Sincerely,

Bachelor's Degree Graduates and Candidates

Academic Honors

Academic honors for excellence in scholarship are determined from the cumulative grade point averages (GPA) of students who are pursuing a bachelor's degree and have completed 30 or more credits with University of Maryland Global Campus. Students may earn the distinctions of cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude, which signify graduation with honor, high honor, and highest honor, respectively. Sometimes called graduation honors, these traditional academic designations are awarded at the time a baccalaureate degree is conferred.

The distinction of summa cum laude is conferred on students with a cumulative GPA of 4.000, magna cum laude for a GPA of 3.901 to 3.999, and cum laude for a GPA of 3.800 to 3.900.

Students who have earned the honor of summa cum laude are also named to the President's List. They wear gold and red cords as part of their academic regalia at commencement. Blue cords indicate the honor of magna cum laude and white cords cum laude.

Academic honors for Spring 2025 candidates are based on academic standing as of February 15 and are pending final degree audit.

STANLEY J. DRAZEK TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Dr. Stanley J. Drazek (1918–96) joined University of Maryland Global Campus in 1948, one year after its founding. With more than 30 years at UMGC, he served successively as faculty member, director of the Baltimore division, dean, and chancellor.

One of Dr. Drazek's lifelong interests was excellence in teaching. He worked hard to recruit exceptional faculty for UMGC, and he established programs to help teachers reach their full potential in the classroom. Because Dr. Drazek viewed teaching excellence as one of the university's core values, it is fitting that UMGC's Teaching Excellence Awards are named in his honor.

Each year, these awards are bestowed on faculty members who have been nominated by their students for their distinguished teaching. Two faculty members are being recognized as this year's UMGC Asia recipients of the Stanley J. Drazek Teaching Excellence Award.

Frank W. Concilus, PhD
Overseas Collegiate Professor
South Korea

Frank Concilus received an M.A. in East Asian Regional Studies from Harvard after his service in the U.S. Peace Corps in South Korea. He focused on East Asian sociology and anthropology in the two-year program. Returning to Korea after teaching at Sophia University in Tokyo, he began to teach for UMGC in 1974, first as an adjunct and later as a collegiate faculty member, teaching throughout Korea, Japan, and Okinawa.

In 2008, Frank received a Ph.D. in English from Indiana University of Pennsylvania with specializations in sociolinguistics, rhetoric, and cultural studies. As a result, he began to teach speech and communication studies courses, in addition to his earlier courses in sociology and East Asian anthropology.

Owen G. Phillips
Adjunct Associate Professor
Okinawa

Professor Phillips was born in Wales and has lived in Okinawa since 1998. He attained his B.A. (Hons.) in Welsh from St. David's University College, University of Wales. He also holds a Post Graduate Certificate in Education from Cardiff Metropolitan University, and an M.A. in TESOL from the University of Technology, Sydney, Australia.

Prof. Phillips taught first and second language Welsh at middle and senior high school level before being selected to join the Japanese government's exchange and teaching (JET) program, teaching English on Miyako Island. At the request of Okinawa Prefecture Board of Education, he remained on Miyako after JET, to create and implement the English program for all elementary schools in the Miyako archipelago. On a three-year return to Wales he was a teacher of Welsh at Cowbridge Comprehensive School.

Prof. Phillips joined UMGC in 2015. His work mostly revolves around teaching in the Bridge Program, which is a year-long course to prepare speakers of other languages before they enroll in regular undergraduate courses, alongside native speakers of English. In addition to teaching Bridge and Speech courses, Prof. Phillips also teaches at Okinawa Christian University and Okinawa International University.

Professor Phillips said: "After ten years with UMGC, one of the biggest annual highlights is seeing former Bridge Program students now graduating with University of Maryland Associates, Bachelor's, and Master's degrees."

Tatsuki Matsui, PhD

Adjunct Associate Professor

Japan

Dr. Tatsuki Matsui holds his B.S. in Physics from Keio University, Japan and his Ph.D. in Physics from the University of Iowa. His specialties are theoretical physics of space and fusion plasmas, and massively parallel plasma particle simulations. He has worked as a researcher at the medical imaging and high-performance computing lab at the University of Iowa Hospital and Los Alamos National Laboratory. As a math and physics instructor, he has been a UMGC Asia faculty member since 2013. He also teaches physics and math at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and Temple University Japan Campus.

Maria S. Staton, PhD

Overseas Collegiate Professor

Japan

Dr. Maria Staton joined UMGC in August 2019, arriving in Tokyo to begin teaching with the Asia division of the university. Before that, she spent 15 years teaching at Ball State University in Indiana, where she also earned her PhD in English. Dr. Staton's first two degrees are from St. Petersburg University in Russia, where she was born and raised. Teaching has been her passion since the very first day of her career, and she is happy that she could make a contribution to educating our UMGC students in Asia.

UMGC Alma Mater

UMGC was established in 1947 specifically to serve the educational needs of adult students, many of them veterans returning from World War II. That commitment continued as UMGC first sent faculty overseas to teach active-duty military personnel in Europe in 1949 and in Asia in 1956. That mission guides us to this day. Our Alma Mater, by faculty member Susan C. Malone, commemorates and celebrates UMGC's unique culture and mission.

Academic Degrees and Dress

A degree is awarded for successfully completing a course of study. U.S. colleges and universities now confer more than 1,600 types of academic degrees.

Early Degrees

The first degree recorded in history was a doctorate conferred by the University of Bologna in the middle of the 12th century. Originally, the doctor's and master's degrees were used interchangeably, each indicating that the holder was qualified to give instruction to students. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree indicated only entrance upon a course of study preparatory to a doctorate or mastership. Gradually, however, the bachelor's degree came to signify the successful completion of a level of advanced study preparatory to the higher degrees.

The associate degree originated at the University of Chicago, which began awarding it in 1900. Today's associate degree is typically awarded after two years of study and is often composed of coursework that may be applied toward a bachelor's degree.

In North America, the Bachelor of Arts (BA) was first conferred in 1642, on the nine young men who constituted the first graduating class of Harvard College. Yale conferred its first Bachelor of Arts in 1702; Princeton, in 1748; William and Mary, in 1753; Pennsylvania, in 1757; and Columbia, in 1758.

The Bachelor of Science (BS) was awarded to four graduates of Harvard's class of 1851; they were probably the first from any institution to receive that degree. Women in the United States first received baccalaureate degrees in 1841, when three women graduated from Oberlin College.

The master's degree has passed through various stages since its origin in the Middle Ages. During most of the first two centuries of U.S. collegiate history, the only master's degree awarded was the classic Master of Arts (MA). The University of Michigan offered the first Master of Science (MS) in 1858.

Throughout the 19th century, the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree gained status in both Europe and North America. The first earned doctorates in the United States were awarded to three students at Yale in 1861. Johns Hopkins University was founded for graduate studies in 1876, after which more universities developed doctoral programs in varied disciplines but with requirements similar to the PhD.

Regalia

The gowns worn by participants in an academic procession indicate which academic degrees they hold. At the bachelor's level and above, the gown is usually black, but some universities use colored gowns. At UMGC, doctoral candidates wear red gowns; master's and bachelor's degree candidates wear black, and associate degree candidates wear the traditional gray gown.

The style of sleeve connotes the level of achievement: straight-bottomed sleeves indicate the associate and bachelor's degree; longer, dangling sleeves, the master's degree; and fuller, round sleeves the doctorate.

The gown worn by those who have earned a doctorate is faced with velvet and has three bars of the same material across the sleeves; the facing and bars can be black, blue, or a color matching the field in which the degree is earned.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the school granting the degree. The velvet border of the hood indicates the discipline. The hood for the doctorate has distinguishing panels and is longer than that for the master's degree. Hoods are not usually worn for the bachelor's or associate degrees at UMGC.

Bachelor's degree recipients who have earned honors for outstanding scholarship wear cords as part of their academic regalia—gold for summa cum laude, blue for magna cum laude, and white for cum laude. These honors are awarded to students at UMGC with a grade point average of 3.800 and higher.

Academic Degrees and Dress

The standard cap is the mortarboard, which is usually the same color as the gown. At UMGC, tassels worn by candidates for degrees below the doctoral level are worn on the right and are moved—with great fanfare—to the left at the end of the ceremony.

The university president is the focal point of commencement, and their regalia is uniquely designed for each institution. Unlike the gown worn by those who have earned a doctorate which has three bars across the sleeves, presidential robes have four bars of velvet, generally piped in a contrasting color. Presidential robes may also have velvet panels down the front. The UMGC president's gown is red with black velvet facing and gold piping to represent the university's colors, as shown in the photo of Gregory W. Fowler, PhD, at right.
